Sixth National Convention on Student Quality Control Circle

'Quality is not an act but a habit,' was the message of the sixth national convention on Students Quality Control Circle (SQCC) organized by Suncity School. The convention sought to imbibe a sense of quality and bring out the importance of skills among students and schools. Rupa Chakravarty, Principal of Suncity School, said, "It was a good platform to showcase what quality means for a school." The two-day extravaganza had 8 events in which 400 students from 27 schools across India showcased their problem-solving abilities, analysis and researching skills. The delegates also presented their research papers. The best team trophy of the convention was clinched by Raman Munjal Vidya Mandir (RMVM) and Suncity School bagged the runners-up trophy. Sugata Mitra, Education Innovator & renowned TED Speaker, said, "It was really hard to believe that the whole event was managed by students and faculty alone."
